

Head teachers' conference

October 18th and 19th 2018

Bailbrook House Hotel, Bath BA1 7JD

With keynotes from:

David Didau

What if everything you knew about education was wrong?

The Learning Spy is widely recognised as one of the most influential education blogs in the UK and has won a number of awards

Jean Gross

What works for low attaining children—including from low income backgrounds

Sponsored by Oxford University Press on a not for profit basis

OXFORD
UNIVERSITY PRESS

Daisy Christodoulou

Comparative Judgements—increase accuracy and reduce workload

In association with Oxford University Press on a not for profit basis

OXFORD
UNIVERSITY PRESS

To book please see the website at www.tbmpts.com or phone 01761 412198

Residential: Including all refreshments, a buffet lunch on both days, three-course conference dinner, accommodation and breakfast on Friday Early bird £270 before June 30th £295 after June 30th

Non-residential: Including all refreshments and a buffet lunch on both days

Early bird £175 before June 30th, £195 after June 30th

Online booking for tbmpts courses is now available via the teaching school CPD portal at www.tsportal.org

Once you have created an account you only have to log in to be able to browse information and book courses. Links to the portal are also available from www.tbmpts.com

In 2017-18 the Bath and Mendip Partnership Teaching School has so far worked with 153 schools with 500 members of staff accessing training. We have 78 courses or events planned this year and so far participants have rated our courses an average of 9.4 out of 10.

Deputy head teachers' conference

Thursday, October 4th

Ammerdown Centre, Radstock, BA3 5SW

£95—to book see the website at www.tbmpts.com

Mary Myatt will be speaking about high challenge, low threat and the implications for progress, feedback and classroom practice. She will also be leading a workshop on curriculum. It will cover some of the steps schools might take in order to renew and refresh their curriculum.

Paul Whiteman, NAHT general secretary, will be speaking to delegates about the combined benefits of this specialist leadership union and why all senior leaders should be a member. There will be an opportunity to ask questions and discuss how NAHT is making an impact for all senior leaders.

Damian Knollys, headteacher, will lead a workshop on recognising, developing and making use of your personal qualities to become a more effective leader. Along the way, you will analyse your strengths and weaknesses, critique other leaders and come away with a plan to develop your

NQT training package 2018-19:

Have you appointed an NQT for next year? Our NQT programme will support them to acquire the key skills, knowledge and professional competencies required to quickly become skilled leaders of learning. A comprehensive package is available for £510 (prices held from last year), including appropriate body fees, or contact us for information about our Pay As You Go option. To book a place, please contact office@tbmpts.com or see the website at www.tbmpts.com

Congratulations to our new Specialist Leaders of Education (SLEs) who have recently received their delegation. Our new team of SLEs will be offering support and development in a number of areas including EYFS, Phonics, English, Maths, ITT, Music and Y6/7 transition.

If you would welcome any support from one of the team, please look out for further details of how to make a booking through our website / portal.

Daniel Sobel
Narrowing the attainment gap

January 24th, 2019

Daniel is the Founder and Lead Consultant of Inclusion Expert. He regularly speaks on educational inclusion, social and behavioural issues, SEN, managing mental health, foster care children and impoverishment.

TBMPTS new season 2018-19 highlights

New to Special—a series of sessions on a variety of topics, Early Years TA development, visual impairments, spelling, greater depth in maths, autism champions networks—early years, primary and secondary, phonics, mentally healthy schools, TEACCH and AET courses

www.tbmpts.com

Louise Bombèr
March 8th, 2019

Louise Bombèr is qualified as a specialist teacher, a therapist and a DDP practitioner. Louise and her team offer services supporting children who have experienced relational traumas and losses to move towards learned