

The Bath & Mendip
Partnership
Teaching School

An introduction to dyslexia

Wednesday,
February 5th
4pm to 5.30pm

£30

Led by Tim Carter and Caroline Ford

Fosse Way School,
Longfellow Road,
Radstock BA3 3AL

This course is intended for those new to working with children with dyslexia

This presentation begins with an exploration of the term dyslexia.

Several definitions will be examined as well as a consideration of a variety of strengths as well as weaknesses associated with the condition.

There will also be an examination of a wide range of early indicators of dyslexia, pertinent to the classroom, including the signs of dyslexia associated with motor development, reading, writing, mathematics and memory.

Following this, the training will focus on how teaching staff can most effectively meet the needs of pupils with dyslexia, exploring the “dyslexia-friendly” classroom, communication and importance of supporting the pupil’s memory.

This course scored 8.7 out of 10 last year
“Very interesting and delivered in a clear and simple way.”

To book online visit www.tbmpts.com or email office@tbmpts.com

National Teaching
School

National College
National Support
School